Civil Defense gives alert

Tornado sightings result in classroom evacuations

County Civil Defense Director Bobby Boudin alerted all schools in the county Wednesday as tornadic weather swept through the entire area dumping masses of rain and hail onto ground barely dry after the floods of early May.

Students were evacuated from classrooms and assumed foul weather defense status inside halls and corridors waiting out the worst.

Two tornadoes were seen forming, one immediately to the west of Bayside Park, and the other on US-90 at State Highway 603.

No reports of touch-down were received although both formations caused deluges of hail throughout Bay

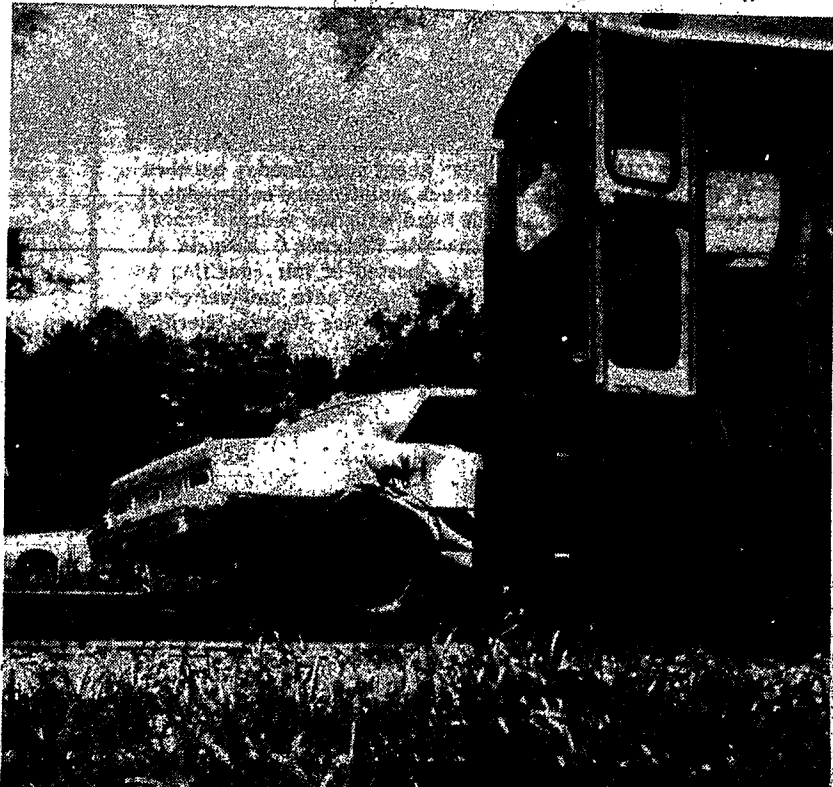

St. Louis, Waveland, and the county proper.

Boudin said that no reports of damage were received in his office. He urged all persons sighting hail or enveloped in severe lightning call his office at 467-9226 with such reports.

"When we receive these reports, along with the caller's location, we are able to contact the National Weather Service and ask them to turn their radar onto this county for identification of possible tornados.

"The volume of water at certain locations in the city led us to believe we may have sustained intruders from a water spout, but no damage was (TORNADOS-PAGE 6)

Atlas begins building, port economy expands

Wilson W. Webre, director, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, moved positively across a broad front of activities Monday in seeking approval for construction projects at Port Bienville, Stennis International, and Bayou Caddy.

Atlas Powder Company, who have been approved for a $1 million industrial revenue bond issue for construction of facilities at Port Bienville, and who are awaiting the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, sought and obtained an extension to their existing option to purchase agreement.

Under the terms of the new arrangement, the company were granted permission to begin building roadways, railroad beds, bunkers, and building foundations, under the understanding that all will revert to the county if, for some unforeseen reason, the purchase option is not consummated.

To cement the extension, which is to be in effect for 90 days, Atlas paid $2,825 to the port authority, a sum to be applied against the purchase price when such agreement is completed.

International Demolition and Salvage Co. a failure to demolish their remaining Liberty vessel extracted a request from Webre that he be permitted to assess the company $500 per month, retroactive to April 17, for their continued use of the turning basin for the purpose of moorings. ## Bayou Caddy environmental draft is ready

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Mobile have announced that a draft environmental statement for a proposed anchorage basin and the continued maintenance of the existing federal channel at Bayou Caddy, (Bayou Cadet) has been forwarded for review to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and to federal, state, and local government agencies, as well as conservation groups and other interests. flexible policy of releasing students to attend schools in other public districts. Superintendent of Schools Terry Randolph told the Hancock County School Board this week the district is damaging its eligibility for federal funds particularly when the children of federal government employees are released to another district.

Randolph asked the board at a Monday morning meeting to consider a policy of not releasing students to another public district, and the matter has been taken under advisement by the board.

The district fell short by some 6 students whose parents were federally employed of being eligible for federal impact construction funds in a previous school year, the superintendent noted.

The district released 25 to 30 students to other public school districts where parents then pay a tuition to the district attended, Randolph said.

16th Section leases profit county schools

The value of 16th Section lands to the Hancock County School System was again made evident Monday when Union Oil Co. of California offered $309,429.96 for drilling rights on two parcels.

County supervisors, who opened the bids, recommended their acceptance to the school superintendent, Terrell Randolph, who under the terms of the present 16th Section land lease law must accept or reject the offer.

Randolph said Monday he intended first to consult advisors in Jackson, but would have an answer for the oil company later in the week.

Questioned as to whether the "wind-fall" would put a definite "go ahead" on plans to build a second county high school adjacent to the county line

McLeod park sets entrance tariffs

McLeod Park on Texas Flat Road, frequent target of vandals, is looking at ways to boost security and prevent the facility from falling into ruin.

A security post is to be installed at the main entrance complete with park immediately west of the Waveland city limits, the superintendent said. The money, even when added to the $173,694 due this week from the Mineral Lease Commission although substantially reducing the amount

Two bids per section were received for mineral rights, one on each from Union Oil, and one on each from Saga Petroleum.

As in the last bidding, the two companies were widely apart in their numbers with Saga this time, the low bidder and Union the high.

18 survive shrimper explosion, boat burns, sinks

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

A festive occasion turned into a serious disaster for the Tom Lassabe family of Pass Christian on Saturday.

An explosion on the Lassabe shrimp boat during the annual Blessing of the Fleet caused 18 people to leap overboard from the burning Lassabe vessel, four having received burns.

Captain Tom Lassabe suffered third degree burns from the waist down to his knees according to a family spokesman. His wife, Donna, received third degree burns to her legs.

Lassabe's 14 month old son was burned all over his body. Mrs. Olevia Lassabe, mother of the captain received second degree burns on her left hand, and third degree burns on her left leg, and her hair was singed.

Lassabe's four year old daughter, Jennifer, was uninjured. She was helped in staying afloat until rescue by a neighbor, also a passenger, Danny Peterson.

There were a total of 18 on the 26 foot Lafitte type shrimp boat including two nephews of the captain, Gary and Carl Lassabe. The explosion occurred as the shrimp boats were making a circle in the Gulf and were getting ready to return to the harbor for Bishop Joseph Howze's blessing.

Rescue was made by the Mississippi Marine Conservation boat, then leading the flotilla, Lassabe's brothers, Roy and Justin, and crews of other boats.

Rescuers jumped over board and helped the swimming survivors.

Spectators at the Pass Harbor first thought some of the boat passengers were just swimming until they saw the flames begin to rise from the stricken craft.

Officials at the Yacht Club summoned Mobile Medic and Pass Christian Fire and Rescue units who aided in giving first aid to the injured.

The Lassabe family was treated at the Emergency Room of Gulfport Memorial Hospital and released.

Curtis Lassabe, another brother, said Tom Lassabe acquired the shrimp boat about last September. He recently (SHRIMPERS-PAGE 6)

Farmers to open Market with sales first, talks later

Consumers patronizing the Hancock County Farmers Market early in the season will likely be rewarded with the best bargains, according to market officials who are planning a 7 a.m. Saturday opening of the market's second year.

"We recommend consumers attend the market early and be among the first to get the local produce while it is available," said L. J. Breaux, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce agricultural chairman.

"Later in the summer the prices will probably be higher," Breaux added. "Reports from Florida indicate a shortage of winter and spring produce from that area," he continued.

In addition, Breaux pointed out, a shortage of trucks and piggy-back rail (FARMERS-PAGE 6)

Shock hazard is tied to water heaters

U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) today warned consumers that certain portable, immersible electric water heaters manufactured by G.L. Electric Heatcoat Co., Harper Woods, Mich., may cause serious electric shock during use. An identically designed electric water heater made by another company was reportedly involved in the electrocution of a teenage girl last year.

The heaters are sold, among other things, to heat water in the bathroom and kitchen.

They are plugged into a standard electrical outlet and consist of an exposed resistive heating element contained either inside a cylindrical perforated metal case or within two round, flat porcelain shells open around the edge. Both types allow water to flow inside the casings and directly into contact with the heating element, thus presenting a dangerous shock hazard if the heaters are on.

Consumers are warned that they may be electrocuted should they touch the water container or the water itself while the heater is on.

The heaters in question include the "Fast Heat," model 401. Models 501 and 101 have the perforated metal case and model 401, the two porcelain shells. The heaters are sold nationally, primarily in hardware stores and tack shops.

On March 24, 1978, the Commission authorized its staff to bring an administrative proceeding against G. L. Electric Heatcoat Co. to remove these products from the marketplace.

An open invitation is extended to all Senior Citizens 60 years of age and older to attend our May Birthday Party, 1:30 p.m., Monday, May 22nd at the Waveland Civic Center, for the seniors who have birthdays in the month of May. There will be a special prize for the birthday celebrants, plus a door prize for all.

The Ladies Auxiliary of The American Legion Post no. 139 Bay St. Louis have volunteered to host our birthday party. Refreshments will consist of Home Baked Cakes and Punch. For entertainment we are proud to present The Dynamic Hawaiian Duo of Jerry and Lani. I could write paragraphs of praise for these fine entertainers, but we will condense it into one sentence. Their fine work really speaks for them.

The Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis is deeply grateful to the first volunteers in the world. They are from the field of entertainment, regardless of race, color or creed, they, all the show people, are there to help all charitable organizations from the smallest to the largest. We know, because my wife and I were a part of the field of entertainment. I am still an active worker in that field.

To the Seniors who drive cars, please bring a friend or neighbor who is a Senior Citizen to our May birthday party and make this event an Outstanding One.

OPEN HOUSE

The Open House and Bazaar Event, at the Senior Citizens Center on Friday May 12th from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. was great. Many seniors came to the center to see and buy the articles that were on display. The big event of the day was the playing of Dixieland Jazz for the Seniors. The Musicians were Louis Burghard on Piano, Eddie Engelhorn, Saxophone, Walter Chamberlin on Banjo, Bass, and yours truly on drums. Louis, Eddie, Walter and the bass player who wishes to remain anonymous, are still active in the music field. These fine musicians volunteered to play for the Seniors. For forty-five minutes the Seniors and Staff at the Center heard, without a doubt, the finest Dixieland Music, from around these parts. It was a pleasure to work with their fine combo. Quite a number of seniors jitterbugged, waltzed and did a variety of hand clapping and foot stomping every time the combo played a number. After each and every number they were greeted with a big round of applause.

All Seniors who attended this event said it was wonderful. Let's have some more of this kind of music. We shall

CREPE'S FOR MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day just may find you with an electric crepe maker. The paper-thin French pancake called a crepe has become a very popular new taste treat for Americans. Many consumers who have tried crepes in specialty restaurants would like to try crepe making at home. Crepes add elegance and a gourmet touch to a variety of dishes from appetizers to desserts. They can be served flat like a pancake or can be rolled and filled or topped with a wide variety of sauces. The only limitation in cooking with crepes seems to be the cook's imagination.

Because the secret of crepe making success is maintaining the proper cooking temperature, it takes a certain amount of practice and patience to make a perfect crepe on the range in a conventional frying pan. The new electric crepe makers now available take the worry out of making a perfect crepe every time because they are thermostatically controlled.

If you are enough of a crepe connoisseur to eat them often, an electric crepe maker may be a useful appliance in your kitchen. You'll use less energy with a crepe maker than you'd use making crepes in a frying pan on the kitchen range. Before buying, however, look for the following features in the various models:

-A non-stick finish that will make it easier to remove the crepe;

-A completely immersible unit that will make cleaning carefree;

Cheerleading clinic July 31, MSU

Junior and senior high school students from throughout the state and region are being invited to attend the Fourth Annual Mississippi State University Cheerleading Clinic July 31-Aug. 4.

"This year's clinic will be staffed by instructors selected and trained by the World Cheerleading Conference," said Barbara Blankenship, associate dean for student life and services. "There will be one instructor for every 30 students."

In addition to instruction on cheers, pom-poms and tumbling, Blankenship said the clinic will feature group discussions, evaluation workshops, leadership exercises and pep assemblies.

Advance registration is required at least two weeks prior to the clinic and must include a $25 deposit per student.

Total registration fees for a student staying on campus is $64. This includes instruction,

-A pan that could be used for various cooking tasks other than crepe making;

-A free recipe booklet that will inspire you to use crepes often in a variety of ways.

Electric crepe pans were originally priced at about $30, but more recently, the popular promotional price has settled at around $20 to $25. Always shop around for the best buy. File your warranty after reading it carefully.

If you would like some crepe recipes call 467-5456 and we will mail them to you.

SPORT FISHING SURVEY—John Cirino of Gulfport, right, surveyor for Gulf Coast Research Laboratories which is conducting a base-line ecology study of Bay St. Louis for the DuPont Company, questions fishermen Eileen Blackwell of the Salem Community, Peter Thompson of Piquette and in photo at right, Sam Gaddie of Waveland on the public pier at Ulman Avenue in Bay St. Louis about their catches. Cirino said black drum currently being landed at the pier are ranging in size from 18 to 30 pounds, with pieces of crab the best bait. Elsewhere in the Bay, Cirino said the greatest variety of fish being taken is in the Back Bay area near the old monastery, with fishermen taking red fish, ground mullett, speckled trout, flounder and others. GCRRL's sport fishing survey work began in December and will continue through the remainder of this year every Saturday and Sunday and three days selected at random during the week. Cirino, who has become a familiar figure to area fishermen since the survey began, said other phases of the work, such as microbiology and oceanographic studies might continue as long as two years. ### We join the salute to the fourth Mississippi

The fourth U.S. Naval ship to bear the name Mississippi will be commissioned in Norfolk, Virginia on Saturday, August 5, 1978.

Governor Cliff Finch, the Mississippi Congressional Delegation, the Sec. of the Navy, and other Washington dignitaries will participate in the commissioning program as dictated by navy protocol.

The U.S.S. Mississippi is the third nuclear powered guided missile cruiser in a special naval fleet. The building of the ship began in 1975. The crew is composed of 38 officers and 460 enlisted men trained in tactical warfare to guard against nuclear attack.

As customary when a ship is named for a state, Mississippi officials will present the crew with an original oil painting of the vessel that will hang in the officer's ward room. In addition, each crew member will be given small replicas of the painting.

Three other naval vessels have been named after the state of Mississippi. The first was a side wheel steamer commissioned on December 22, 1841. During her service, the first Mississippi served as a flagship in Commodore Perry's momentous voyage to Japan. She was destroyed in 1863 as a result of the Civil War.

The second Mississippi was a battleship commissioned in 1908. Her service included sailing with Theodore Roosevelt's "Great White Fleet."

In 1917, the third MISSISSIPPI began 36 years of service in the U.S. Navy, earning eight battle stars for her World War II service. With the announced surrender of Japan, the MISSISSIPPI anchored in Tokyo Bay to witness the signing of the surrender documents, then steamed for home.

Governor Finch said this week, "We are proud to have such a fine vessel bear the name of 'Mississippi'. I'm certain the USS Mississippi will contribute greatly to the military strength of our country."

We of Hancock County join in the well wishes of our state.

Demolition . . .

Webre said attempts to clear the turning basin, through contact with the company by phone and registered mail, have so far not produced satisfactory results.

Supervisors agreed with the port director as to the necessity of such charge being imposed and suggested he inform the State of Florida, who owns the hull upon its being readied for sinking as a fishing reef, of his action.

Webre, in response, said he had taken such a step and that an investigator would soon be taking a survey on behalf of that state, as it had expressed a keen desire to have salvage work resume as soon as possible.

Switching to Stennis International's needs, Webre asked his commission be given permission to advertise for bids on construction of a three inch clay gravel base, 26 feet deep, overlaid with a 24 foot width double bituminous surface treatment, for nearly a quarter of a mile, on the roadway leading to the industrial park.

He said the county had built the road and put some clay gravel on the existing surface but it was now time to complete the job.

Supervisors agreed to the request as they did also to one asking that Shaw Supply Co., be granted a change order to their contract on EDA project No. 04-51-22074, concerning the removal and replacement of approximately 550 cubic yards of sub-standard material at the airport.

Finally at Stennis, Webre sought and obtained approval for contracting Advanced Development, Inc., consulting engineers, for a lump sum of $12,420, for preparation of application of EDA 304 project dealing with sewage collection and treatment.

The supervisors also approved payments of $611 each to Hancock Insurance Agency and Treutle Insurance Agency to cover the premiums involved in the airport hangar building insurance.

The marina at Bayou Caddy (Bayou Cadet) was the last item of business for Webre, who requested approval of a lease between the county and Niel J. Nielson, effective May 16. Though not included in the resolution, Webre confided to supervisors the lease terms called for payment to the county of $120 monthly for 12 months, its term of length.

Nielson said he intended to open a seafood restaurant, fuel, and ice facilities at the location and post armed guards on the property at night.

Discussion evolved around his harbor master duties and the extent of his authority concerning the docking of school district this year is right at 75, he added.

School Board Attorney Joseph Gex noted the majority of the released students live in the Pearlington-Lakeshore area, or the southern end of the district.

Parents in the southern end of the district have been quite vocal at board meetings this year about their desire for a high school in that area.

Board President Woodrow Ladner said the board might be inviting law suits if it prevents a student from attending another district, "particularly if he can get an academic program somewhere which we can't give him."

After the board took the matter under advisement, Randolph said he will make an in-depth economic assessment of the effects the current release policy is having on the district.

The board took no action on another agenda item seeking approval of the release of a Diamondhead student to attend a Catholic high school in Bay St. Louis.

Gex said the board has no authority over a student's transfer from the district to a private school.

In other action, the board accepted a low bid from Deco Construction Co. of Gulfport of $4,929 to build a lobby addition to the Hancock North Central gymnasium.

Also bidding on the project was Plaquemine Construction Co. of Louisiana offering a price of $7,300.

Randolph noted some $3,500 is budgeted for the addition.

The board also accepted the sole bid from Rick Galloway of $834 to renovate the Hancock North Central football field.

operated by a commission, A.C. Jones, chairman, and Mrs. Caillier, secretary-treasurer.

The fee scale was sought to provide revenues to the commission for clean-up, security, and park maintenance. Although located inside the NASA-NSTL Buffer Zone, the park operates under special dispensation, permitting overnight camping. It is the only location inside the buffer zone approved for this activity.

The commission plans to hire at least three officers and enforce its security regulations designed to better provide for family park use.

Under the terms of the new scale, park users will be charged: automobile admission, $1; boat (launch fee), $1; primitive camping, $2.50; electric hook-ups, $4; ball park rental, day - free, reported," Boudin said.

The freak storm hit less than 24 hours behind an emergency preparedness meeting staged by state civil defense personnel, paying the way for Hancock County's future role as an evacuation reception center for those people living in the Pass Christian and Long Beach areas of Harrison County below Interstate Highway 10, in the event of possible nuclear attack against the U.S.

Larry Bowman, state coordinator, J.J. Wells, and Charles Barker, assistant coordinators, all with the office of Civil Defense, Jackson, presented the program.

Under its terms, Hancock would house some 18,399 people from "across the Bay" in public buildings, and under emergency conditions, until such times as they could either return home or boat impressed the girls with their strong words of wisdom.

1. NEVER go sailing without a life preserver.
2. NEVER leave the boat if it overturns or swamps, rather hold on to it.
3. NEVER go boating when weather conditions are bad.

Another kind man "literally flew" to his home on Waveland Ave. and almost beat the rescue boat back to the pier with his own hull and outboard motor.

I submit this information in hopes that you might publicly acknowledge the heroics of the people involved in this incident. It is certainly gratifying to know that so many concerned people, willing to risk their lives, still roam this troubled but good old earth.

Approval was given by the board for the superintendent to advertise for bids on long-range renovation plan items which have been approved for funding by the State Department of Education's Educational Finance Commission.

Projects approved for Hancock North Central totaled $69,000 and for Gulfview Elementary, $23,000, the superintendent pointed out.

The board also authorized the superintendent to forward to administrators of the State Transportation Accident Contingency Fund for consideration claims by Roger Cuevas, Bernie Saudier and Clarence Necaise that their vehicles were damaged in separate incidents by school buses.

The board reviewed a presentation by students in the Hancock North Central High drafting program which included a term project in which each student worked up complete designs of his "ideal home." A more thorough view of that presentation is planned for a later issue of the Echo.

Also taken under advisement at the meeting was a request from bus drivers on Hancock North Central routes to have two buses, one to the south and another to the north of the school, allowed to remain at the homes of the drivers next year.

Purpose of the request, according to Principal Thad Haskins, is to free most drivers from long trips in their personal vehicles each morning and evening to pick up and drop their buses at the school.

Haskins will meet today, Thursday, with the drivers to discuss details and costs of the proposal.

The park group told supervisors their scale was below that of the state parks, but would hopefully serve to provide the needed revenue.

Mrs. Caillier is journeying to Jackson this week in a search for additional government funding for her security force.

Vandals over the last few days have filled the rest and dressing rooms with broken glass, put gravel and other garbage into the toilets, removed a cement based barbecue grill - digging up the base and stealing it with the pit, torn up grass areas with motorcycles, torn down railings, defaced structures, and destroyed garbage facilities.

alternate arrangements were made. The host area plan as it affects Hancock, is brought about due to the Pascagoula, Gulfport-Biloxi areas of Mississippi being two of six designated as high risk areas.

The other four are: Columbus Air Force Base, Lowndes County; Lauderdale County, DeSoto County, and urbanized areas of Hinds and Rankin Counties.

Main thrust of the Host Area Planning Workshop on Tuesday was in discussion of ways and means of handling the evacuees, provision of services, police protection, government expansion, and the like.

Split into three main areas, the session dealt with the effects of crisis relocation, functions, and functions responsibility.

Cuevas was Ms. Florence D. Foegele. Ms. Foegele was taken by Mobile Medics to Gulfport Memorial Hospital where she was reported in fair condition in the hospital's intensive care unit.

A hospital spokesman said Ms. Foegele suffered head injuries, lacerations and abrasions in the accident.

The sheriff said Ms. Foegele's vehicle was dragged some 80 feet down the railroad right-of-way after being struck.

The L&N unit was driven by Wendel V. Rainey, 29, of Stafford, Ky.

Rainey said he sounded his horn as he approached the Clermont Harbor crossing, and when it appeared to him the Foegele vehicle would stop, he proceeded across, the sheriff reported.

Assisting officers and medics in removing the woman from the wreckage were Buddy Haverty, Vic Aime and Fred DeHaan, Ladner said.

The officers used a sledge hammer from the railroad vehicle to free the woman who was trapped by the steering wheel of the car, the sheriff added.

No charges were filed in connection with the incident, the sheriff reported.

engineering and economic aspects of the proposed anchorage basin project has also been prepared.

The draft environmental statement was prepared in compliance with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. Comments and recommendations furnished by reviewing agencies and the public will be utilized in preparing a final environmental statement. The final statement will be prepared after the draft is coordinated with concerned federal and state agencies and consideration is given of the views of the public.

Bayou Caddy (Bayou Cadet) is located in Hancock County. The purpose of the proposed anchorage basin is to improve navigation facilities at the bayou. The proposed project would provide an anchorage basin 8 feet deep, 1,380 feet long and 200 feet wide. A total of 131,700 cubic yards of material would be removed during construction. Maintenance dredging of the basin and the existing 3-5 mile long channel would be performed at five to six year intervals.

The Corps said that comments on the effect of the proposed project and continued maintenance of the existing project on the environment are solicited. Interested individuals and groups can obtain a copy of the draft environmental statement by writing or telephoning the Army Corps of Engineers District at Mobile. Written requests should be addressed to the U.S. Army Engineer District, ATTN: SAMPD-E, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Alabama 36628; telephone requests should be made to (205) 690-2728.

The draft detailed project report is available for inspection in Room 3029, New Federal Building, 109 St. Joseph Street, Mobile, Alabama. It can be purchased at a cost of $2.50 from the Navigation and Coastal Branch, Mobile District, Corps of Engineers, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Alabama 36628. Checks should be made payable to "Treasurer, U.S. Government."

A public meeting for all interested parties to discuss the project will be 7 p.m. May 18, in the Crew Vehicle Building of the Coast Electric Power Association in Bay St. Louis. Anyone wishing to ask questions or comment on the proposal is invited to attend.

GOP ballots are ready

Republican military absentee ballots for the June 6, 1978 First Primary Election are now available at the Chancery Clerk's office in Bay St. Louis, in addition to Democratic ballots as earlier announced.

The circuit clerk's office will mail the absentee ballots to men and women in the armed forces. Parents or relatives of military personnel are asked to bring the address of family members to the clerk's office in the courthouse.

Transportation workers, students, teachers, administrators, and sick, wishing to vote in the June 6 primary, can also pick up affidavits at the circuit clerk's office, have them signed and notarized to make them eligible to receive an absentee ballot before the election. The circuit clerk's office is open 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

carriers has compounded the problem of distributing the available Florida vegetables.

Breaux, along with Chamber President Dick Thomas, will serve as master of ceremonies at a 10 a.m. program Saturday formally opening the Farmers Market this year.

The market will be open from 7 a.m. each Wednesday and Saturday at the County Fairgrounds on Longfellow Drive next to the National Guard Armory.

Officials and business leaders of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County, as well as senatorial candidates in the June 3 primary elections, are expected to take part in Saturday's opening ceremonies.

The market is a joint venture sponsored by the Chamber, Hancock County Extension Service and Hancock County Farm Bureau.

"The Chamber is proud to be involved in this community endeavor," Thomas said.

"We enjoy our relationship with Farm Bureau President Frank Lee and County Agent John Smith," the Chamber president noted, "and we feel this is a prime example of how this county can be united."

Smith said, the Hancock County vegetable harvest was delayed somewhat by recent heavy rains. "Some people had to replant, but I expect the crop to be more plentiful later in the summer," Smith added. Shopping the market early in the day became a rule of thumb last year, with many farmers sold out and on their way back home by noon.

Letters to the Editor

TV boycott support asked

The Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Local leaders of the Waveland Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) echo the words of the First Presidency of the Church when they state:

"We appreciate television as a remarkable medium for education and entertainment. But we are deeply distressed by what appears to be an ever-increasing amount of pornography, immorality, and violence, particularly in network programming. The comment is frequently made that broadcasters are only giving the people what they want to see. While it may be that many enjoy this kind of material, we are confident that there are many more for whom such fare is repugnant, but who may have been loathe to express themselves."

One of the effective agencies in the nation combating such broadcast material is Morality in Media, Inc., with headquarters in New York City. The Church is represented on its board of directors, which includes men and women of many faiths and from many walks of life.

This voluntary organization has suggested the people of America express their views on such network programming by leaving their television sets dark for a full day. They have suggested Tuesday, May 23, as a day for such silent expression.

It may well be that if enough people of the nation unitedly express themselves their numbers will be recognized and their protest will be heeded. We have committed ourselves to this expression, and invite our people, and others throughout the nation who may feel similar concern, to join in this symbol of protest against a growing evil in our society."

Jerry F. Mims

Thanks go to North Bay

Dear Sir,

We as a society many times indicate our support of a given function by giving money, time, or interest to whatever it is that we support. A parent of a private school child generally says, "I support this school and the education it gives my child, and I show my support by sending money to it each month." If he displays support at no other time, he does show it in this one way.

In public schools we run into a totally different situation. Except for the taxes he would have to pay anyway, the public school parent is not required to give anything to the school; no money, no time, no effort, and no interest. Many times we run into parents who give just that: "NO NOTHING."

The damaging publicity and the trying circumstances the faculty, students, and parents of North Bay Elementary School experienced earlier this school year were demanding times for us all. Much of it appeared to have come about because of disinterested, non-responsive parents, not just of this school year but of past years as well. Our teachers have a very difficult task of both obeying laws that restrict them and meeting educational requirements. Theirs is a difficult task indeed! At the end of this school year as a North Bay parent, I would like to publicly say Thank You to Billy Sills, principal; to the teachers at North Bay, and to our very supportive P.T.O. under the leadership of Lana Noonan, for a good school year.

It is often in difficult experiences we unite and find the depth that truly exist in each of us.

Sincerely,
Mary Beath Burghard

Near tragedy averted

It was approximately 5 p.m. Saturday, May 13, when the uncle of one of the two teen-age girls involved in this story thought he and I should go to Ladner's Pier in Waveland, Mississippi, and check on them and some of the younger members of the group frolicking on the beach. We soon learned that the two 17-year olds were approximately a mile or more out from the pier in a small make-shift sail boat and appeared to be in trouble, and in trouble they were.

There were no boat operators in the area except one legitimate sail boat and operator preparing to leave for home. He and the uncle attempted to paddle a small rubber raft out to the rescue. The two big guys were too much for the small raft so uncle had to go and the sail boat guy began paddling. The north wind was blowing in excess of 30 knots directly from shore to no man's land. The paddler kept laboring. Two fishermen on the pier decided more action was needed. They discarded their rods and shoes and began swimming. ## Attorney vows court fight on city assessment denial

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis City Council this week moved to meet with the Planning and Zoning Commission at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 23.

The Commission had adopted a resolution at its May 11 meeting stating no planning and zoning business be conducted until such meeting is held, and that city attorney be asked to attend.

The commission had requested a May 18 meeting but the Bay Council already had a meeting scheduled that date.

Commission chairman Jay Triche Jr. presented Council with the minutes of that group's meeting.

Also at last Thursday's Commission meeting, Louis Fernandez resigned as vice chairman. He will remain as a commissioner.

Commissioner Paul Vegas was nominated and elected by acclamation to the position of vice chairman.

At its meeting this week the Council was unanimous in rejecting a petition to reduce the assessment of beach property and improvements of Glynn and Patricia Bannister.

William Frisbie, attorney representing the Bannisters, told Council he will "see them in court."

He told the Council he would file a bill of exception Wednesday. Frisbie asked Council President James Thrifflay if he would sign the bill of exception and he replied yes.

Councilman Pete Benvenuti, following rejection of the assessment reduction, told Frisbie, "you sat up in this same office, you didn't cut taxes when you were here."

Frisbie replied, "I left office five years ago, I served my time."

Councilman Wilmer Seymour asked Frisbie when court would be and he said July. Seymour commented, "school will be out and I will be there".

In other matters, Louis Fernandez, Hancock County State Board of Health sanitation officer, told Council he wrote to the developers of Westwood and Henley Place Subdivisions about State regulations governing water and sewer lines being tied into city lines.

Fernandez said he had received a reply from Henley Place Subdivision developers but not Westwood developers as yet. Fernandez's letter to the developers requested a set of plans and specifications for their water and sewer systems be sent to the state for approval.

The developer of Henley Place told Fernandez he sent the board of health plans for the water system, and assured him the subdivision will be built within state regulations.

Councilman Fred Wagner made the following statement to Fernandez: "It appears to me you're speaking about state regulations, we don't want to compete, we don't have any authority in the city."

Fernandez told Council he suggests the City accept the water and sewer regulations of the state.

"If something goes wrong, you all are the ones responsible—you don't know how many new homes and industries are going to be added to your sewer and water systems and you may need some assistance," Fernandez said.

Councilman Benvenuti made a motion that no subdivision be tied into any city water or sewer system until it receives approval from the State Air, Water and Pollution Control Commission. The motion passed.

Wagner made a motion that neither subdivision, Westwood or Henley Place, be tied into the city system until Council sees a final plat of their sewer and water systems which have been

Overpass scuttled

Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday canceled plans for construction of a pedestrian crossing at Dunbar Avenue and US-90.

Mayor Larry Bennett requested cancellation of the overpass plans because of a recent federal court ruling requiring the busing of school students living one mile or more from school.

The Council was unanimous in its decision to stop the construction and transfer the funds "to some other worthwhile need."

approved by the City Engineers.

Howard Ronsheimer, resident engineer for Burk and Associates told Council he tested all the sewer lines in Westwood Subdivision and it is ready for the city's approval.

"The water line has a leak in it and we can't run up the pressure to check it," the Contractor told me he is waiting for a fitting," the engineer said.

Ronsheimer said his office first must approve the water and sewer systems then the developer applies to Council for acceptance.

On recommendation of Mayor Larry Bennett, Council approved the reapportionment of Odgen Kergosien and Norman Tartavoula to the electrical board.

Council passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of short term notes for $42,660 for purchase of two new school buses.

Bid requests on the loan were sent to three local banks and two replied.

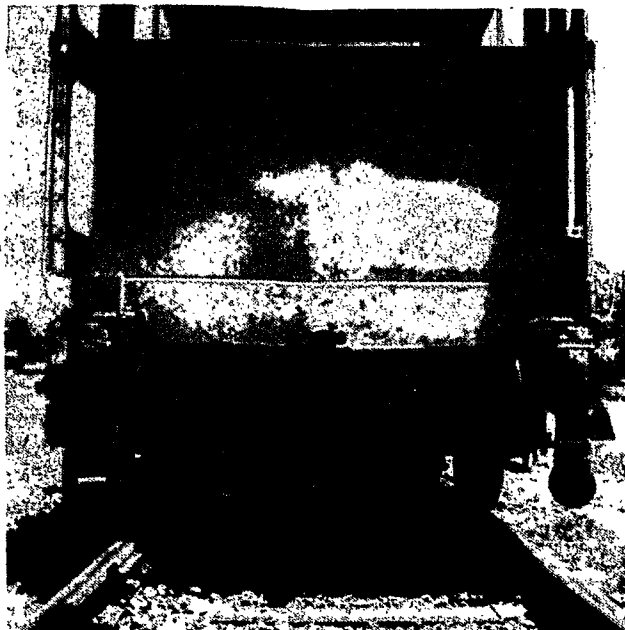

Merchants Bank and Gulf National Bank gave identical bids of six percent simple interest.

Council accepted Merchants Bank's bid.

A lengthy discussion was held by Council on the possibility of having speed limits reduced on US-90 by the State Highway Department.

A motion by Wagner carried unanimously, requesting Mayor Bennett write the State Highway Dept. telling them it is the city's intent to reduce the speed limit on U.S. 90 because of our concern for the safety of school children.

There was also a request by Benvenuti for the state to install guy wires on US-90 signal lights because when the wind is blowing one can't see the lights. Also shields on the lights were requested.

Shock hazard gets curling iron recall

C and S Trading Co., Carson, Calif., in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC), today announced a voluntary recall of model 100 "Magic Curl" hand-held curling irons because of a possible burn or shock hazard.

The curling irons subject to recall contain a chrome-coated heating element and a yellow swivel handle. Thousands of these devices were sold nationwide between January 6 and November, 1976.

The model 100 "New Magic Curl" curling iron with a white handle is NOT being recalled.

No permanent identifying marks are embossed on the curling iron itself. However, there are two stickers on the swivel handle—one with the name and address of C&S Trading Co., and the other with "Magic," 120V-60cs, H130W, LOW15W, Korea."

The curling irons are packaged in a purple and gold box with the words, "Professional Curling Iron, 'MAGIC CURL' prominently displayed on two sides.

The defect lies in the handle casing, which can separate after a short period of use, allowing sparks to be emitted and creating the possibility of shock or burns. CPSC staff is aware of five burn incidents and one shock accident related to the curling irons.

Consumers are urged to immediately stop using the recalled curling irons and either return them to their dealer or mail them to the C&S Trading Co., 138 East Savarona Way, Carson, Calif. 90746, (213) 770-1485, for a free replacement curling iron and reimbursement of postage costs.

Additional information about this recall is available from the C&S Trading Co. To report a product-related injury, call CPSC's toll-free hotline at (800) 638-2666.

Chamber drops fleet blessing

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has withdrawn from its sponsorship of the Annual Blessing of the Fleet at Bayou Caddy.

In making the announcement, Dick Thomas, chamber president, said the fleet blessing was cancelled due to the Louisiana shrimping season date being set back to May 25, causing the proposed blessing date of May 27 to be unacceptable to local fishermen.

Thomas said the chamber is an organization that should simply initiate projects, turning them over to proper authorities when they are established.

Robert Kane, chairman, learned Friday of the fishermen's viewpoint. He said the original date had been set after his consulting with Thomas Holzhauser, president of Gulf Fishermen, Inc.

The chamber president said he thinks only the fishermen can organize themselves in the most effective way for the annual event, the chamber remaining involved only to the extent of supplying trophies and assistance when called upon by the fishermen.

"In most communities the fishermen's association organizes the blessing of the fleet and the chambers assist as required."

"We have enjoyed organizing this annual event and we look forward in the years ahead to the fishermen's association once again organizing the blessing of the fleet and the chamber getting back to its purpose, which is the promoting of one of our finest industries in Hancock County," Thomas concluded.

Shrimp boats are a 'coming..their sails are in sight!!

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The annual Blessing of the Fleet at Pass Christian went on as scheduled Saturday. The festivities were marred by an explosion and the sinking of Tom Lassabe's shrimp boat as the boats lined up in the Gulf to pass for Bishop Joseph Howze's blessing.

Rescue of all 18 passengers was promptly done with Lassabe and three members of his family suffering burns. They were taken to Gulfport Memorial Hospital for treatment and released.

The over 30 shrimp boats plus many pleasure craft, decked out with all types of decorations were blessed by Bishop Howze, assisted by Rev. John T. O'Brien, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian. "Bless these fishing boats" the bishop and priest repeated, "keep them safe from every peril, together with all on board," each boat received an individual blessing as they returned to the Pass Harbor and were sprinkled with Holy Water.

Joy was expressed over the faces of the many on the boats when they heard the Lassabe's were safe. Boat crews and passengers waved at the crowds lined up on the breakwater and perimeter around the harbor. Some lifted their hats to Bishop Howze, others made the sign of the cross and some took pictures from their boats of the first Bishop to bless the Pass Shrimp Fleet.

When all the boats returned to their docks, the announcement of awards and crowning of the Queen of the Melaine Fayard was undertaken.

Awards for the best decorated boats were made in three categories. Winning in the 35 foot plus group were the "Jimmy-Dian" owned by Jimmy Bradley, which took first place, and the "Maria-Mavar" owned by Emile Schmidt, second. Trophies for boats 35 feet and less went to Gerald Ladner for his "Brother-in-law", and Wilton Cuevas for "Cuevay Babby." Pleasure craft awards went to "The Wanderess", owned by Thomas Shellnut and John Dugan, and to "Sun-Quest" owned by John Hands.

Police Chief Ed Alley, who chaired the event, sponsored by the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce, said he and a number of others got special permission to go out last Thursday and try and catch some shrimp for the occasion. A total of four boats went out and only caught 10 pounds of shrimp. Indications are the shrimping season for Mississippi waters will be delayed in opening this season like our neighboring State of Louisiana.

The Fleet of Pass Christian is all ready for the up coming shrimping season.

Middle East Peace

Two bulwarks against Russian power in the Middle East and Israel, are now engaged in critical negotiations to insure peace. President Anwar el Sadat of Egypt, who represents the aspirations of millions of devoutly religious Arabs, personally built bridges to peace with his historic trip to Israel to speak personally to Premier Menachem Begin of Israel.

Dr. Dean Casey White, ruling Elder of the Bible Presbyterian Church of New York, a devoted anti-fascist, anti-communist, and anti-Nazi who has written widely on the need to re-inforce the Middle East as a bulwark against communism, applauds President Sadat's efforts to forge a lasting peace in the Arab world. He sees it as a great opportunity for America and Israel to seize the initiative offered by President Sadat's inspired mission, promising a peace that will be a beacon light for civilization.

Restore Garden Tools

Garden tools stored over the winter are often rendered useless by rust and corrosion. Now there's a way to get garden tools going in the spring. Spray them with WD-40. Non-gummy WD-40 dissolves rust and corrosion, keeps sticky mechanisms and is harmless to most painted surfaces. Look for handy spray cans at your local stores.

$5 month seminary club forms in Biloxi diocese

The Executive Committee of The Catholic Foundation of the Diocese of Biloxi, Inc. today established the Five Dollar Monthly Seminary Club.

The objective of the Club is to raise funds throughout the Diocese to pay education costs of seminarians studying for the priesthood.

Four young men are studying for the priesthood for the Diocese of Biloxi and five additional young men will enter the seminary next fall to start their studies, according to Reverend Anthony Arregles, Diocesan Vocation Director.

The Most Reverend Joseph Lawson Howze, Bishop of the Biloxi Diocese recently stated, "that it costs approximately $20,000 from the time a seminarian enters the seminary until he is ordained.

This figure will undoubtedly rise due to inflation in the coming years."

Individuals and families may join the Five Dollar Monthly Seminary Club by remitting this amount each month to The Catholic Foundation of the Diocese of Biloxi, Inc., P.O. Box 1189, Biloxi, Ms. 39533. Checks and money orders should be made payable to The Catholic Foundation of the Diocese of Biloxi, Inc. All contributions to the Five Dollar Monthly Seminary Fund are tax deductible. Membership cards will be issued to all donors.

Postoffice to update register

Sectional Center Manager Norman L. Dille of U.S. Postal Service has announced that clerk-carrier and substitute rural carrier examinations will be given in June and July. He urged that all interested apply to take the job-related tests that can lead to Postal Service employment.

"We have not opened our register since 1975 and an examination of it has led us to believe that it is out of date, and that many of the names on the register are people who have moved or for some reason are no longer available to take postal jobs.

"I do not want to give the impression we will be hiring great numbers of people in the coming months but vacancies will occur in the next two years that will be filled by hiring people from our updated job register. We need qualified people who will be willing to accept employment and we want to offer people in the local community the chance to compete for these openings by signing up for and taking the exams," Dille said.

He said, "On Oct. 8, of this year, those who have been on the job register for more than two years will lose their eligibility. They will have to reapply to compete for a standing on the new register."

ETV drops school schedule until fall

With Hancock County schools beginning the three-month summer vacation May 26, the regular daytime schedule of instructional television programs designed for classroom viewing will also be suspended.

The Mississippi Educational Television Network, which broadcasts the "ITV" shows, said a new summer daytime schedule will go into effect this week.

Taking ITV's place during the morning and afternoon hours on MERV are popular programs and series from the network's nighttime schedule.

In addition to the regular 10:30 p.m., weekly slot of yoga lessons, there will be an 8 a.m. daily showing of "Lillas, Yoga and You."

"Crockett's Victory Garden" is included in the schedule also - at 9:30 a.m., Mondays. Jim Crockett also gives tips on how to grow a "victory garden" at his regular time on Sundays at 3:30 p.m.

"The Forsyte Saga" will begin a weekly run on Mississippi ETV at 10 a.m. Monday.

Dick Cavett hosts famous, and sometimes controversial, celebrities on his public television show at 11 a.m., weekdays.

The show also is seen at its regular time - 10 p.m. weekdays.

"Over Easy," the series for Americans approaching 40, began a series of repeats on Tuesday, May 6. The show will be seen during the summer at 11:30 a.m., in addition to its regular time of 6 p.m., weekdays. Host is Hugh Downs.

Mississippi ETV's own "Cookin' Cajun" series with Justin Wilson can be seen three times a week. Three different programs can be seen each week at 2:30 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

More cooking is in store when Julia Child becomes "The French Chef" at 3 p.m. Tuesdays. The series will continue to be seen at its regular 2:30 p.m. Saturday slot.

"Sesame Street" is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. weekdays with a rebroadcast at 4:30 p.m., except for this week when the rebroadcast will be at 5 p.m. to accommodate special programming.

"The Electric Company" is scheduled for 1:30 p.m., weekdays, and the friendly neighborhood of Fred Rogers can be seen at 4 p.m. every week day.
